A LOUISVILLE CHEMIST

Discovers a New Product which is proving far more useful than Vaseline, Witch Hazel
and Arnica.

This new product is known as Para-camph, first Aid to the Injured. The need of a safe, reliable, relieving and healing agent is realized by every housekeeper. Paracamph is a combination of rare, soothing, cooling, healing, antiseptic oils that quickly relieve all forms of Swelling and inflammations, by its peculiar action on the pores of the skin. When applied it penetrates through the pores to the interior cells, removes any congestion, soreness, fever or inflammation by inducing perspiration. Paracamph is an absolute preventative of Blood Poison.
It heals Cuts or Burns without leaving scars. Certain and rapid in action.

Paracamph is sold in 25c, 50c and $1.00 bottles by all good druggists, or sent direct upon receipt of price. Manufactured only by The Paracamph Company, Louisville, Ky., U. S. A.

Paris, Ky., Friday, August 18, 1905.

THE arrest of Sam Hisle in this city, Monday night, the negro brute who has been positively identified by his victim, Mrs. Jasper Case, near Winchester, of having committed the horrible crime upon her, is an ex-convict and a Clark county vagrant. The Winchester officials stated that he was never known to work. This is another illustration of what comes of the non-enforcement of the vagrant law.

Such fiends in human shape are around every town in Kentucky, who were never known to do an honest day's work, yet are never brought before the court to answer a charge of vagrancy. The officers wait until one of these shameless crimes is committed and then go after the perpetrator with a vengeance, and the first thing the officers will say is, in nine cases out of ten, "the scoundrel was never known to do a day's work in his life."

The next Legislature should remedy this vagrant law in some way, or pass a law of some kind compelling officers to enforce the laws. The trouble is that there are too many figure heads holding office to-day and most too much politics to have the laws enforced.

There is no punishment imaginable severe enough for this negro brute Hisle. Burning over a slow fire even would not meet his case, or be anything like justice, something more severe should be his fate.

Our suggestion in last issue in regard to the organization of the Bourbon County Fair Association has met with very favorable comment from a number of our merchants, farmers and breeders of fine stock. We have noticed our exchanges especially close to see how these old-fashion fairs have succeeded in our surrounding counties and throughout the State generally, and without an exception, they have been successful beyond the anticipation of the promoters. There is no reason that can be given why a regular Agricultural Fair in Bourbon would not pay in every way, and we are glad to know that steps are being taken to organize a company.

Would it not be a good idea to call a meeting of our citizens and form some kind of an organization?

THERE is a great deal of complaint by our citizens of the fragrant violation of the city ordinance prohibiting the breaking of horses on the principal streets of our city, especially resident streets. This has gotten to be a great nuisance and it is almost a daily occurrence to see one of the poor dumb brutes beaten unmercifully. It frightens women and children and is also a very dangerous practice, both to travelers in vehicles and pedestrians.
If there is a city ordinance that should be enforced this is one, for the enforcement of it, is for the good of the public.

THE Lexington Leader says "no coon need apply" when it comes to one of them getting on the Republican ticket in Fayette county. It is the same old story, when you want their votes they are "all the goods," you pat them on the back and tell them they are as good as anyone, but when one of them asked to be placed on your ticket for county offices, you whisper to them that it would be ruinous to the Republican ticket. Why don't you tote fair with your black brother.

Now will you pessimists please be good for a while at least, after reading this. Part of the new machinery to reconstruct Main street has arrived. It's here in Paris at the freight depot.
You old "kickers" ought to be ashamed of yourselves the way you stroll around town growling and doubting everything.

It is said that harvesters for which farmers pay $125 could be made and sold at a good profit for $57. So much for trusts and so much for protection. The trusts are the outgrowth of a high protective tariff and the tariff is a child of the Republican party.
